TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 4.—Peace officers, led by Governor Clarence D. Martin, today beat through the brush and woods of the mountainous Olympic peninsula for a man in a black overcoat who has become the No. 1 suspect in the sensational kidnaping of Charles Mattson, 10, son of a prominent Tacoma surgeon.

With the abduction mystery going into its second week, the small army of local, state and federal officers blocked all roads and ferry lines following the appearance of the man at a lumber mill and his command to the gatekeeper to telephone Dr. William W. Mattson, father of the missing boy, that Charles was "all right."

E. R. Grubb, gatekeeper for the Reed mill at Shelton, Wash., 50 miles west of Tacoma across Puget Sound, said a black coupe drove up last night and parked in a "p. r. k. zone."

"Everything Is Well."

"I left my shack," said Grubb, "to tell the driver he couldn't stay there. A man jumped out of the car and in a gruff, strong voice but in perfect English said:

Today is Handel Monday in Scotland, when it is customary to give one another gifts, just as Epiphany, January 6, is gift-giving day in other countries.

The repair work on the steps in the lobby of the post office will be commenced shortly. Pa. News was told by Postmaster Richard A. Steen today. The work was delayed until the holidays were over so that it wouldn't hamper the Christmas mailing rush.

In the lobby at the Y. M. C. A. right inside the door, a stranger now can see a bulletin board sign that lists, in detail, "What You Can Do" at the "Y." Almost 40 activities of all kinds are mentioned.

The one-way alleys downtown were set aside in order that traffic could move through the business area faster. The one-way designation helps them, and motorists should realize that. There's been some two-way operations in some of the one-way alleys of late.

Work has been completed on removing the Christmas decorations which adorned the business section of the city during the holiday period, the last of the wiring having been removed this morning.

Actions Of Spanish And German Fleets Bring New War Fear

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Jan. 4.—Smartly-uniformed officers of General Francisco Franco's rebel troops mingled with the crowds on Berlin's thoroughfares today as the fleets of Germany and Spain engaged in a series of retaliatory measures off the Spanish coast which brought new fears to an already war-jittery world.

Bluntly ordering its warships to halt "all Spanish red ships" for the present, the foreign office confirmed seizure of the Spanish merchant vessel Marta Junquera by the Nazi cruiser Koenigsberg in the Bay of Biscay.

It was the third Spanish ship taken by the Nazis since a Madrid warship seized the German steamship Palos, arrested its sole passenger and confiscated part of its cargo.

Germans Conscious Of Situation

Over the week-end, the German public became acutely conscious of the menacing naval situation, with newspapers carrying accounts of the seizures and crowds staring with

Tomorrow, at noon, the newly elected general assembly, overwhelmingly Democratic, will meet in its 132nd session, the occasion historic, critical.

Historic, for it will mark the commonwealth's first Democratic-controlled legislature since 1846; critical, for the administration faces the

Official Bulletin On Pope's Condition Will Now Be Issued

Pope Pius XI Took To His Bed With Illness Exactly One Month Ago

By FRANK GERVASI
International News Service Staff Correspondent

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 4.—The first official bulletin from the Vatican regarding condition of Pope Pius XI will be issued this afternoon in answer to international clamor for exact details of the state of his health, it was announced today.

Pope Pius took to his bed exactly one month ago today, when he was compelled to abandon a spiritual retreat because of illness. Since that time, an authoritative source declared, while "Progress has been made in combating the pope's local condition, his general state was declined rather than gained."

This was interpreted as meaning that while the ulcerous condition of the pope's leg may have responded to treatment or at least has not become aggravated, his heart and respiratory apparatus appear to be succumbing gradually to old age and toxic condition of his blood due to uremia and other complications.

The Vatican insists, however, the pope remains in complete possession of his mental faculties and this morning was strong enough to receive papal secretary of state Cardinal Pacelli, and Cardinal Bissetti of the congregation of Seminaries.

Vatican City, Jan. 4.—Grave fears that Pope Pius' heart may succumb to arterio-sclerosis and other complications were reflected today in the first official announcement by the Vatican regarding his long illness.

Disclosing his heart-beat has become irregular and his blood circulation is growing gradually worse, a bulletin issued by the Vatican State Department declared the Pope's condition requires "prudence" due to his advanced age. The Pope is 79.

McClester Named Assembly Winner By Butler Judge

McClester Wins Over J. Brady Murrin

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 4.—Albert B. McClester, Republican, today was declared the winner over J. Brady Murrin, Democrat, by a margin of eight votes by Judge John H. Wilson in an election contest involving a seat in the state house of representatives.

Judge Wilson certified the final results as: McClester, 16,181; Murrin, 16,173.

Votes cast for McClester on the prohibition ticket where the initial "B" in his name was omitted provoked the contest.

Murrin had sat at the recent special legislative session by virtue of the return made by the county return board. McClester at that time had not yet taken his case to the county court.

Judge Wilson's finding will be sent to the house of representatives for final action and further contests may develop in the low chamber.

Sheriff Pritchard To Go To Harrisburg To Secure Custody Of Prisoner

Rocco Esposito, 56, charged with the murder of Francesco Romeo, near West Pittsburgh, in October, 1906, should be back in Lawrence county, in a day or so. Esposito, who is known as Rocco Esposito Strange, in Kirkland Lake, Ontario, where he has lived for the past 30 years.

Esposito will be taken from Kirkland Lake, to Harrisburg, by Investigator Frank Costa of the Pennsylvania Department of Justice. At Harrisburg, he will be met by Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard on whose warrant, Esposito was arrested. Arraigned before Canadian authorities

Esposito immediately waived extradition. He denies having murdered Romeo and said he was not afraid to return to Pennsylvania to stand trial. Sheriff Pritchard left this afternoon for Harrisburg to secure custody of the prisoner.

Waives Extradition

Under the Canadian law there would have been a delay of about 40 days if Esposito had demanded an extradition hearing. As it is he can be brought back to the United States immediately. In a telegram to District Attorney Mont L. Alley Mr. Costa said that Esposito had waived extradition.

The alleged murder took place in October 1906 near West Pittsburgh. It is said that the dead man Francesco Romeo had been a member of the Italian Carabinieri, a governmental police agency and had shot a relative of Esposito's, Romeo later came to Lawrence county.

Romeo made a death bed statement in which it is charged he said Esposito had shot him and an indictment was made against Esposito and a name named Dominick Caio. The latter was tried and acquitted of the charge. The notes of testimony were afterwards destroyed.

MADRID, Jan. 4.—Spanish rebels today unleashed a fierce aerial and artillery bombardment upon Madrid, attacking the so-called neutral zone of the capital and killing and wounding civilians by the score.

Four bombs were dropped from rebel planes in the neutral zone, containing many foreign embassies filled with refugees. Supposedly free of military defenses, the district hitherto had been immune from attack.

A woman and a child were killed and several were wounded in a building under protection of the Chilean embassy. One bomb fell only 150 yards away from the American embassy.

Strike Threat Hangs Over Auto Industry

DETROIT, Jan. 4.—Both the State of Michigan and the federal government definitely entered the auto strike situation today in an effort to forestall paralysis of most of the $5,000,000,000 auto industry.

DETROIT, Jan. 4.—While the federal government unofficially eyed developments that have thrown a $5,000,000,000 auto industry out of gear, a new-born "board of strategy" of the United Auto Workers Union today studied authority invested in it to call a general strike in all General Motors far-flung units.

Must Re-enact All Phases Of U. S. New Deal

New Congress, Convening Tuesday, Must Move To Continue New Deal

MOST AGENCIES ARE NEARING END

Expect Most All Activities Of Emergency Nature Will Be Given New Life

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Destined to re-enact virtually every phase of the new deal, the incoming seventy-fifth congress today faced a tremendous legislative program as its members assembled here for the opening tomorrow.

The new congress must duplicate within one year a legislative program that required the two preceding congresses four years to enact, or else permit hundreds of the government's emergency activities to lapse. This situation developed because both the seventy-third and the seventy-fourth congress passed scores of emergency measures that expire within the next seven months, or else enacted bills so hastily they now must be modified.

The vast legislative field will include foreign affairs, taxes, unemployment relief, public works, neutrality, farm relief, reciprocal trade treaties, social security, federal housing, banking, monetary affairs and possibly a constitutional amendment to cover hours and wages in industry.

Legislative Outlook

A survey disclosed the following legislative outlook:

1. Neutrality: Administration leaders will seek immediate enactment of legislation to prevent sale of American war supplies to either side in the present Spanish revolt. Later, a permanent neutrality law (Continued On Page Five)

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Jan. 4.—Harold Wright, 22-year-old pottery worker, was being held today as a suspect in the probable fatal shooting of George J. Culp, 62, trolley car operator, during an attempted hold up, police reported.

Strands of red hair in a hat lost by the gunman led to the arrest, police said.

Wright was identified by Culp, when brought to the hospital here, as the man who shot him in an attempted robbery at the Wooster terminal of the Steubenville East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company early yesterday.

Orchard Damage Reported Extensive

(International News Service)

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Jan. 4.—Telephone telegraph and power linesmen were at work in Jefferson, Clearfield and Indiana counties today repairing the havoc wrought by a terrific windstorm which felled hundreds of poles.

Many of the poles were repaired Sunday only to be blown down again by a second miniature tornado. Farmers reported thousands of dollars damage to orchards.

Trees Uprooted

The sleep-laden wind uprooted hundreds of trees which along with the poles blocked highways in the tri-county area. The east end of Punxsutawney, Rossiter, Luthersburg, Cove, Marchand, DuBois, Big Run, Sykesville, and smaller communities were without power and telephone service for several hours, service was reported restored this morning.

Motorists of the Indiana and Punxsutawney roads detoured to avoid the tangled telephone and high tension power lines which fell across the highways when the poles were blown down.

SEEK TAX PARITY IN STATE

Legislature Is Given Warning

Business Corporations Must Be Placed On Tax Parity With Other States

STATE BODY ASKS FOR TAX REDUCTION

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 4.—In order to halt an inevitable "walk-out" of industries from Pennsylvania, the 1937 general assembly must place the commonwealth's business corporations on a tax parity with those of other states, the State Chamber of Commerce held today.

"More important than the threat of plant shutdowns or physical removal from Pennsylvania," the state chamber averred in a statement, "will be the failure of new plants to enter the state and the decision of Pennsylvania corporations to expand their productive facilities in other states, thus getting closer to a large part of their markets and avoiding the excessive tax burden in Pennsylvania."

Pointing to the commonwealth's five million capital stock tax and the 10 per cent net income tax, the chamber held the state's corporations were more heavily taxed than those of any other state and urged the burden be reduced.

The chamber looked toward increased business conditions as a definite factor in reducing emergency taxes for relief and held the 1937-39 relief budget should be some $20,000,000 lower than that of 1935-37.

It was also urged that recommendations of the Goodrich committee, that administration of public assistance be consolidated and reorganized into central boards, be adopted as a means of increasing efficiency and reducing costs.

awe at the Spanish rebel officers making themselves at home in this capital.

Two of the latter encountered by this correspondent displayed some knowledge of German but smilingly declined to state whether private business or official missions had brought them to Berlin.

International News Service established, however, that there is at least one official delegation of four officers, headed by Jose Nothnagel, whose mother and father were German although he was born in Spain. Nothnagel admitted he was a member of Franco's militia but claimed to be here in a private capacity. The German press, which last week "played down" the Spanish naval incidents, burst forth today with page-one resumes, together with allegations of German aid to the Spanish navy. This sudden journalistic activity was considered in some quarters as the first step in gaining public support for a firm German hand in Spain. Along with the naval incidents, newspapers attacked the Spaniards for execution of Lohar Guedde, a German who had been serving with Franco's troops.

"We need hardly say," thundered Der Angriff, "that such a cowardly assassination of a comrade, which fills the entire German nation with distress and rage, requires immediate satisfaction."

herculean task of enacting a tax program that will be equitable and attend to present conditions, still confounded by many unpredictable factors.

Address By Governor

A broad outline of the administrative program will be presented to the general assembly—and the commonwealth's populace—tomorrow night in a personal address by the chief executive.

The administration program, leaders have decided, will be given the legislative right-of-way, to the end of possible sine die adjournment, providing no discord develops in the Democratic ranks, within four months.

Although not officially announced, the chief executive's program, as it will be outlined tomorrow night, has been generally known. Often he has stated he will follow his campaign pledges of November 6, 1934, when he was elected the commonwealth's first Democratic governor in 40 years, and the recent November 3 "vote of confidence."

The program is expected to include the following: Reorganization of relief and public assistance administration as outlined by the Goodrich committee; plus relief appropriations for 1937; reenactment of most of the 1935 and 1936 tax bills to raise some $170,000,000 that expires May 31; replacement of the Public Service Commission with a so-called "fair rate board"; appointment of a "bootleg" coal commission; sweeping law enforcement reforms; establishment of a "little NRA"; flood control; abolition of ex-cart government; the budget; constitutional revision; election law reform; slum clearance, and dove-tailing of all federal legislation.

The history of dynasties doubtless will record the episode as the triumph of the Press over Wallie.

A local motorist, seen driving along Washington St. this morning is probably unaware of the fact that one of his plates is upside down.

If you were riding along any highway in the district last night and noticed automobiles swaying to the left and to the right, it was not the fault of the drivers. The wind was so powerful that operating a vehicle was a difficult task.

Fluctuating weather conditions of the past few weeks, have affected some of the secondary paving jobs on state highways. It is discovered in touring the county. Heaved paving is already in evidence, and in a number of places ashes have been required to temporarily repair the damage.

DO WOMEN REALLY DRESS for WOMEN?

We say YES! Because other women know what's right... notice things that mere man passes by! They notice colors that have faded... woollens that are stiff and shrunken... silks that have lost their original lustre. And because they know that other women notice these things, more of them are turning to Smith's Super Cleaning and Nu-Life Treatment Service every day. They're actually wearing their clothes longer, getting more pleasure out of them, finding that it doesn't cost so much to pass that most critical test... the greeting of another woman.

Crisis Near Climax

Valencia, Spain, Jan. 4.—With another Spanish Loyalist merchant vessel, the Martha Junquera, reported captured by the German cruiser Koenigsberg, possibility of a continental war arising from the Spanish civil war was viewed here today as more threatening than at any time since the conflict began.

Stiffening of the Loyalists against activities of German naval ships in seizing and firing on Spanish steamers was mirrored in an address by Foreign Minister Del Vayo to a socialist youth meeting here.

"We are firmly resolved, no matter what happens, not to allow a single aggression of the German fleet to pass unchallenged," he declared.

"We shall reply to each of them to the full extent of the means open to us."

"Orders have already been given that every means of defense must be used to resist any fresh aggression at sea. Responsibility for what may happen won't fall on Spain, which sacrifices everything to the cause of peace.

"The German fleet is intervening with a double object of finding a pretext for joining in the attack on Republican Spain and rendering ineffective the plan of control drawn up by the non-intervention committee in London before it can be put into practice."

The situation became doubly grave as a result of a message received by the Spanish government from the captain of the Koenigsberg, which said, according to a communiqué:

"The German admiral commanding Spanish waters is prepared to release the Aragon and suspend reprisals when the passenger and cargo of the Palos is given up. I await a reply aboard the Koenigsberg."

The Aragon is being held in custody by the German battleship Graf Spee in reprisal for seizure of a passenger and part of the cargo of the German freighter Palos recently. The Palos subsequently was released.

FAITH

We wondered if the powers that be, ever thought of changing the time for the registration of automobiles from the first of the year to some time in mid-summer, say July 1.

As it is now, his extra burden is thrown upon the buying public when they are trying to pay as many bills as possible before the first of the year, and also trying to buy a few presents for their friends. It also is a great hardship on the mail carriers of the country to be burdened with a lot of automobile plates right at or near Christmas time, when they are overworked with Christmas packages.

This change would also be beneficial to the State, as every one who owns an automobile would get a license for it in the summer time, whereas now a lot of people leave them stand in the garage until summer time, as they can get along without them in the colder weather.

This is also a loss to the government in the way of taxes on gasoline which is not used when cars are standing in the garage. Also the public would receive their plates much quicker, as the mails would not be so heavy.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

RENEWING OLD MEMORIES

It does us moral good, perhaps, to recall some of our childhood memories, or to meet and talk with those we or our loved ones knew years ago.

A few weeks before I was to deliver several lectures in Clinton, Ia., there came a letter from one of my readers of that city, a young mother who wrote that her step-father, John McCulloh, wondered whether I was the Garry Myers he once rocked as a baby on the farm in Little Cove, Pa., when all the rest of the family were ill; that if I were he wanted me to have dinner at his home.

Well, the expected pleasure came. I recognized Mr. McCulloh as looking like his brother Arch, who used to be my Sunday school teacher, and like his sister Leslie, now almost blind, who officiated as midwife at my birth—Dr. Garry, for whom I was named, being far away at the time, saving some other life—and who was oftentimes a loving nurse during illness in our family. They were next-door neighbors, about a mile away.

I don't remember seeing John McCulloh except once—at his mother's funeral—but I so often had heard my parents speak of him that it seemed that I actually could remember his rocking me. I'm not sure the rocking hurt me, but it must have been a nuisance to my parents.

Recall Old Folk.

We recalled ever so many of the old folk of Little Cove. Among them were his uncle, Squire McCulloh, the scholar and capitalist of the valley; how my father and many others would go to him for advice, how he was always persuading people to keep out of lawsuits. I now recall how when, as school teacher the first year, I made my first report to him and he showed me that I could not have, as I reported, 120 per cent attendance! How father once mounted Old Coaly to go to Squire McCulloh's to pay off the last $100 on the farm, and how happy all of us children felt, having learned to share responsibility.

I also recall that George Yeakle and I dug the grave for John McCulloh's mother, easy digging, the only grave I ever helped to dig. All services were county folk cheerfully contributed. There are more skillful ways of caring for the sick today, or of laying away the dead. But I wonder if in many neighborhoods there is the neighborliness of those days.

Mr. John McCulloh left his Iowa farm several years ago and is clerking in a grocery store. His step-daughter told me affectionately that many of his customers would be served by no one else, because they just know what he tells them can be depended on. She also spoke of his loving kindness in the home and devotion to the church of his childhood. It is a great achievement to be a step-father so esteemed.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NOT DIFFICULT SOMETIMES

Mrs. "Wally" Simpson's divorce is not the only divorce that has happened. The great trouble with the world just now is that the family relation is not secure. It is not necessary to go to Reno to get a divorce on flimsy grounds. If there are no real grounds, the grounds are manufactured. I heard a California Judge say the other day to two people, one of which was seeking a divorce from the other: "Is there any way by which you can patch up your marriage troubles and live peacefully together?" The answer was "No," from both of them. "Well," said the Judge, "you might just as well be divorced then. Divorce granted."

Incidentally, there are some pretty strange causes alleged for the obtaining of a divorce. Here is one. After the solemn statements as to marriage and the names and ages of the children of the parties, the pleader for his "third" cause of action uses this language:

"That on or about the 13th day of February A. D. 1890, the defendant, Jerome Wood, disregarding the solemnity of his marriage vow, willfully and without cause deserted and abandoned the plaintiff, and ever since has been and still continues to willfully and without cause desert and abandon the said plaintiff and to live separate and apart from her and her children born to her by said defendant without any sufficient cause or any reason and against her will and without her consent."

Whether the facts alleged constituted three years willful absence, extreme cruelty, or gross neglect of duty, the court was never called upon to determine, as the case never came to trial.

There are couples who are tied together pretty firmly, however, either by love or fear. In a newspaper recently the following notice appeared:

"To the Public,
"This is to warn all parties concerned that I will not be responsible for any debts contracted in the future by my wife, Annie Doe—John Doe."

The very next day, the same newspaper carried the following notice:

"To the Public,
"This is to notify the public that I put a notice in the papers that I would not be responsible for the debts of my wife, and I want to state that I hereby retract said statement and notice and will state that it was a mistake on my part in putting the same in the papers. I have been and I am now responsible for the debts of my wife, Annie Doe—John Doe."

Wonder if the first notice brought forth sufficient response to effect such change in responsibility.

Sun sets tonight 4:47. Sun rises tomorrow 7:22.

We have noticed the price of silk stockings has been reduced very much in some grades. It puts us in mind of the old country general store where they kept the stockings in a box and when the girls came in they picked out the kind they wanted and paid a quarter a pair for 'em, but of course they were not silk and were most always black in color.

TODAY'S STORYETTE
"There is a happy land far, far away," echoed through the school room as the children gave an exhibition of their vocal powers. "Very good," remarked the teacher, when they had finished. "Now, can anybody tell me where the happy land is?"

This was a puzzler, and one that none of the children seemed eager to answer. At least one small hand shot up. "Now, children, listen to what this clever little boy has to say," said the teacher. "Well, laddie, and where is the happy land?"

"Please, teacher, far, far away."

The astonishing thing about a radio photograph is why they go to so much trouble for a thing that looks like that.

To distinguish Iowa from upper class people, note whether the dog sleeps under the house or on the bed.

A New York man must go without a shave or getting his hair cut because he bet on London and lost. He can go to the polls at the next presidential election posing as a dog.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR MISS MARKEL—I have been invited to a subscription dance in compliment to the season's debutantes. It is my first ball. Therefore, I would appreciate your answering the following questions:

(1) What is the correct formal evening attire, including accessories, for men? (2) All of the debutantes will be in the receiving line. After I have arrived at the hotel and have checked my coat, what should I do next? (3) When introduced to a young lady, should I then ask her to dance?

NEOPHYTE
Answer—A swallow-tail coat of worsted, the back extending just to the bend of the knee, no further, the front covering the waistline; long roll lapels of dull, ribbed grosgrain or satin; sleeves showing a half-inch of white cuffs; trousers breaking across the instep and with two parallel rows of narrow braid down the outside seams; white waistcoat; open front dress shirt with two white or jeweled studs; pumps or oxfords; collapsible stick; opera hat or silk top hat, plain black silk socks; a white boutonniere (if any); white tie with ends pulled outside the collar wings; white kid gloves; a plain black or dark blue overcoat, preferably a Chesterfield. (2) After you have checked your coat (leaving your gloves on) go immediately to the receiving line and greet the debutantes. If you have accompanied a girl, take the first dance with her and see that she sits out no later dances. If you are alone and know no one whom you might ask to dance, take your place among the debutantes until you are introduced. (3) Yes. You may ask her for the next dance. If she has taken, ask her to reserve a future dance for you. Say: "May I have the next dance?" Not "Is your next dance taken?" which might put her in an embarrassing position should she be forced to say "No."

Whenever a "stag" cuts in on your dance, relinquish your partner without hesitancy. You must not cut on the man who has just taken your partner; but if she again switches partners, you may cut in on the third man.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader inclosing self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

Today's Yesterdays, Jan. 4, 1493—Cristobol Colon, called Columbus, sailed from Hispaniola (Haiti) in the Nina, on the homeward voyage to Spain, with the epochal news of his discoveries. The discovery he was to report when he got there was "the eastern coast of Asia."

On the way, a terrible storm was encountered, and Colon, fearing the ship would founder, tossed into the sea in a caldron the day-by-day account of his expedition he had written for his sovereigns, Ferdinand and Isabella. Thus the most valuable record in the history of New World exploration was lost. It may be that the task is still wandering the oceans, message-bearing bottles and cask have been recovered many years after they were cast into the sea.

Jan. 4, 1621—There was Communist government in America.

The Pilgrims in the colony at Plymouth agreed to labor in common and on joint account "for the good of all."

But as Demarest Williams, Paterson, N. J., succinctly observes: "This soon proved a threat to existence itself, as some worked and others didn't. All ate."

By 1623 they had decided that even man should live by the fruits of his own labor. Communism was out.

Jan. 4, 1785—Jacob Ludwig Karl Grimm was born in Hanau, Hesse-Cassel, a year before his brother, his collaborator in everything. They lived and worked together in the same house over 60 years and never went out except in company. One refused a professorship (in comparative folk-lore) until a similar post was offered the other. Both fell in love with the same woman and both gave her up rather than separate.

O. O. McIntyre knows a man who wants to organize a society for the proper use of "only." It pops up in the wrong place. Writers say, "He only had $3." "Even" is another word that does not always know its place. Like that. "He even found Shakespeare making that mistake." Instead of "He found even Shakespeare making that mistake." And the word "I" is used too often.

THE CLERK WAS RATTLED
A lanky youth went into a general store to order some groceries. He was 17 years old and was passing through that stage of adolescence during which a boy seems all hands and feet, and his vocal organs, rapidly developing, are apt to cause his voice to undergo sudden changes from high treble to deep bass. In an authoritative, rumbling voice he demanded of the busy clerk: "Give me a sack of corn." Then his voice suddenly broke and continuing in a shrill falsetto he added: "And a sack of flour."

"Well, don't be in such a hurry. I can't wait on both of you at once," snapped the clerk.

Just Folks

PRIDE

Trouble now is pride tomorrow. Man with every setting sun Likes to sit about and talk over everything he's done; Hear him prattle at his fire: "This I did in times of doubt, My problem seemed to be. Set for me I worked it out. This is how I worked it out. The odds were against me laid. This is how I mastered them. Others ran but there I stayed."

Failure now is pride in time. Hear man talking day by day. What is it that makes him proud? Easy tasks and hours of play? Not at all. His memories turn back towards to some by-gone time. To that hard and toilsome road and that tedious upward climb. To the poverty of old, to the dangers battled through. To the cares that he has borne and the deeds he dared to do.

Man must have his joys to boast; he must have his bit of pride. And these satisfactions lie in the pleasures oft denied; In the dreary days and long and the doubting and despair; In the care he has to face and the blows he has to bear. For the things which make success and the thrill of victory sweet Are the hardships overcome and the hazards of defeat. (Copyright, 1937, Edgar A. Guest)

A CANCELLATION

In an outlying district of the Sudan was stationed a telegraph clerk who found the desolation getting the better of his nerves and telegraphed to headquarters: "Can't stay here; am in danger of life; surrounded by lions, elephants and wolves."

The hard-hearted clerk at headquarters wired back: "There are no wolves in the Sudan."

The next day the desolate one replied: "Referring to my wire of the 16th, cancel wolves."

TALK ABOUT DILEMMAS!

"Ah, good mornin', Mrs. Murphy, and how is everything?" "Sure, an' I'm havin' a great time uv it between me husband and the fire. If I keep me eye on the wan, the other is sure to go out."

"I've come," said the visitor, "to have you explain why you called me a 'political jobber' in your old sheet."

The editor hastened to apologize. "I regret the typographical error very much," he wrote. "I wrote the word 'robber' and underlined it, but the typesetter got it wrong. We'll correct it in the next issue."

A woman historian charges that not enough mention is made of members of her sex in the popular histories. What? Helen of Troy? Cleopatra, Catherine the Great and a great many others—female impersonators?

Gross: "So you sold your store to enter politics?" Grosser: "Yes, I want to help spend some of the tax money I've been paying."

MUST RE-ENACT ALL PHASES OF U. S. NEW DEAL

will be considered and passed if possible, or the present emergency act extended another year.

2. Taxes: Congress must reenact $502,000,000 special temporary taxes that expire this year or lose that much revenue. It also must order retention of the three-cent postage on out-of-town mail or lose from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 revenue. It probably will pass too on modifications in the new federal tax on undistributed earnings of corporations.

3. Relief: It must reappropriate for federal relief and re-enact the expiring public works act or such activities will cease.

4. Agriculture: It must reappropriate for farm benefits under the soil conservation program or farm relief will stop. Incidentally, the soil conservation service itself must be extended or it will die by midyear.

So too the federal farm mortgage corporation, and federal surplus commodity corporation must be extended or allowed to die. A farm tenancy act also will be considered.

5. Foreign Affairs: Congress will have to extend the president's power to negotiate reciprocal trade treaties or abandon such pacts in the future. The senate will be asked to ratify the recently negotiated American peace treaty and probably to be asked to approve a new St. Lawrence waterway treaty.

6. Money: The government's authority to use a $2,000,000,000 fund for monetary stabilization must be extended promptly or that power will die Jan. 30. The RFC, the HOLC, and the savings and loan division of the Home Loan Bank board must be extended or their activities will die. Even if congress refuse to extend such activities, it must appoint some agency to liquidate their affairs.

On top of all this, congress will be asked to modify the social security act and probably to pass upon a constitutional amendment, giving either the federal government or the states the power to regulate maximum hours and minimum wages in industry.

It may attempt to reach this problem through legislation, but in that event the law would apply only to corporations engaged in interstate commerce.

In the background threatening further legislation are the special senate and house committees studying reorganization of the entire federal structure. They may report a program in time to be considered at the coming session. Other current inquiries, such as the Wheeler railroad and LaFollette civil liberty investigations, may lead to further legislation. The Wheeler inquiry appears headed toward a bill, outlawing railroad holding companies, similar to that passed a year ago to outlaw utility holding companies.

With the president so overwhelmed by re-elected and with Democrats in dominating control of both house and senate, politics may be sidetracked for the year. This will not soften the legislative task however as Democratic opinion is sharply divided on scores of the bills that must be considered. Administration leaders hope to predict a June adjournment but veteran observers would not be surprised if the session lasted well into the summer.

Their representatives will each carry copies of current issue of the Directory, which will distinguish them from the "itinerant door bell ringer" in the residential districts.

New Castle has undergone many changes in the business and residential sections since the last Directory was made and the new issue will meet with a hearty welcome. Housewives can assist materially by giving a few minutes of their time to the Directory man when he calls. The Directory is the "People's Book" and worthy of the co-operation of everyone interested in the City's present and future welfare.

Divorcee Found Suicide Victim In Chicago Room

Erie Married Man With Whom She Had Been Living Makes Discovery Of Body

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—"I don't want my wife to hear of this!"

That was the plea today of Theodore Naslund, 30, who returned last night from a holiday visit to his invalid wife in Erie, Pa., and in his apartment here found the dead body of Miss Catherine Cassidy, a divorcee, with whom he had been living secretly.

Naslund told police that beside the body of the woman he found a bottle that had contained a drug and a farewell note, which he burned. He said it read:

"Happy New Year. I can't get along without you."

Naslund said he had gone to Erie for Christmas, taking Miss Cassidy with him. She visited his wife, he said, and he stayed in an Erie hotel while he discussed, a divorcee, with whom he had been living secretly.

Miss Cassidy was divorced seven years ago from George Cook, a salesman, and has a son George Cook Jr., who lives with his father here. An inquest was ordered.

Schools Resume After Holidays

With not as many absences from sickness as might have been anticipated, the public schools of New Castle resumed today after the Christmas and New Year holiday.

Woman Is Denied Right To Witness Mass Executions

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—They won't let her do it, but Miss Hazel Sarro would like to be present next Thursday night at the electrocution of the six slayers of her fiancé, Edwin Esposito, a subway coin collector.

"They tell me that it's against the law for a woman to witness an execution, so I won't be able to go up to Sing Sing to see them suffer as they made my Ed suffer," Miss Sarro said today.

She guesses the next best thing for her to do will be to spend the evening with Edwin's parents in Brooklyn. The execution is sure to bring their grief back to them. "They will never forget their boy."

Rotary Gives Time To Business Monday

Monthly Reports Submitted; Crippled Children's Fund Established

The Rotary club gave attention to business matters before it at its weekly luncheon in The Castleton today. President Ray S. Tannehill, at the half-way mark in his one-year term, presided.

Judge W. Walter Braham, reporting for the club's knackers' committee, delivered the principal talk of the day when he discussed, in a purely humorous vein, the "various types of members in Rotary."

The Rotarians were urged by Fred L. Rentz to attend, if possible, the Zelenople ceremony on Wednesday, January 6, which marks the formal opening of the newly widened section of the busy Perry highway extending from Pittsburgh north towards Zelenople.

After referring to the role present and former Rotarians played in that highway's development, Mr. Rentz declared:

"I hope the day comes when the Perry highway will be at least a three-lane highway from Pittsburgh to Erie."

Announcement was made that Rotary has established a new crippled children's fund and that over $200 has been deposited already in it to further the club's important crippled children's work.

Over $100 was contributed by the Rotary members who matched a $100 gift of their fellow-member, Fred L. Rentz.

Washington May Become Capital Of Art Of World

Mellon's Gift Of $50,000,000 Art Collection Makes Washington Tops In Field

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Andrew W. Mellon's magnificent gift to the nation of his $50,000,000 art treasures eventually will make Washington the art capital of the world, officials here believe.

With the unrivaled Mellon collection as a nucleus, other collectors in years to come probably will add their choice items to the national gallery.

President Roosevelt will shortly ask congress for specific authority to accept the Mellon collection and to house it in a nine million dollar gallery to be erected at Mellon's expense on the Mall. Congressional consent probably will be speedily forthcoming.

Nearly every old master in the world is represented in the Mellon collection—Botticelli, Rembrandt, Gainsborough, Reynolds, Van Dyck, Goya, Hals, El Greco, Romney, More, Titian, Holbein and many others. The former treasury secretary has picked up his items all over the world, some of them at fabulous prices.

His intention of leaving his treasures to the American people was first republished by the International News Service more than a year ago. Saturday the White House made public an exchange of letters between the president and Mellon, confirming it.

Arrest Four In Alleged Theft Of Radios Here

Radios Recovered As Result Of Work Of Local Police

FOUR SUSPECTS HELD BY POLICE

Four men are held on a charge of suspicion at the city police station today in connection with the alleged theft and disposal of 11 radios from the Keystone-Lawrence Transfer company recently. All the radios, worth approximately $400, were recovered.

The men held are Howard Mechling, 2 North Norris way; Harry Ross, 1212 1/2 South Mill street; Bob Leasure, 113 North Norris way; and John Miles, 21 West North street. It is possible that more arrests in connection with the alleged theft may be made, police intimated.

According to Chief of Detectives Ray Showalter, the Transfer company was robbed of the radios December 20, by Harry Ross and John Miles. They are alleged to have requested Leasure to help hide the radios. He is said to have done this. Showalter said the radios were taken in Miles' automobile to a point on the Neshannock Falls road between Neshannock Falls and Plainville. The car stuck in the snow. Some of the radios were hidden in a shack on the Leasure place along this road. Others were left in the auto.

The trio, Leasure, Ross and Miles walked back to New Castle and on December 26, according to Howard Mechling's alleged statement to Showalter, Leasure asked Mechling to "store the radios in his home". The only information Leasure gave Mechling was that the radios were "hot", it was said.

The radios were brought by Leasure and Mechling from the Leasure place along the Neshannock Falls road to New Castle. Some of them were placed in Mechling's home and others were either given away, sold or put up for sale, according to Showalter. All were recovered.

The round-up of the quartet came Saturday night and Sunday after Mechling was alleged to have attempted to sell one of the machines, the arrests and recovery of the radios having been brought about through the arrest of Mechling by Lieutenant Kennedy, Detective Lynch and Sergeant Syling.

Detective Chief Showalter, Detective Moore and Patrolman Wallace arrested Leasure Sunday and later in the day, Showalter and Moore arrested Miles and Ross. All of the men were grilled and finally information was obtained, it was said, which resulted in the alleged implication of the four men and possibly others.

Woman Is Found Suicide Victim In Pittsburgh

Seek To Identify Woman Found In Hotel Room, Had Taken Poison

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 4.—Police today sought to identify the body of a pretty woman who was found dead last night in her hotel in downtown Pittsburgh. A poison vial beside the pajama-clad body led police to believe she had committed suicide.

The girl, about 32, had registered at the hotel Saturday night under the name of Mrs. J. M. Franklin, under a buffalo address which, upon check, was found to be fictitious.

About five feet, five inches tall, weighing 125 pounds, the body was discovered after hotel employees, alarmed by silence from her room, entered it and found her lying close against a wall. She had been dead for about 10 hours.

Dressed in black velvet pajamas, with wedding and diamond rings on her fingers, there were no clues to her identity, other than a note addressed to a person in Ohio, police were unable to locate. Her purse contained a small sum of money.

'Big Increase' Over Year Ago Reported; Pay-roll Up

The Pennsylvania railroad's step-up in the heavy car repair program over its entire system has brought "a big increase" in workmen at the road's Seventh ward shops here, officials reported today.

Superintendent Norman M. Lawrence's office said "we have a good many more men working now than a year ago".

It was pointed out that the increased operations are affecting all the company's shops and that the Seventh ward shop has benefited from the pick-up in past months.

It was also learned that the Pennsylvania's payroll in the New Castle district is larger than it has been for years. No figures were announced.

OPENING COUNTY JOB INSURANCE BRANCH SHORTLY

Staff Here Will Help Employers File Forms Required
By State

Within a few days an office will be opened here to advise local employers of their duties under the new Pennsylvania unemployment compensation act, Ralph T. Jordan, named as county supervisor for the task, announced today.

Mr. Jordan will go to Pittsburgh within a day or so to receive final instructions from his district chiefs and to receive supplies for his temporary office at the headquarters of the Federal-State Employment office in the Johnson building.

"We'll announce the opening when the office is ready," Mr. Jordan said. "We're organizing a staff to help employers."

Secretary of Labor and Industry Ralph M. Bashore at Harrisburg had named the field staffs for the work for the entire state. Employers, it was stressed, must file their registration forms and the first contributions on or before January 31.

Failure to file contribution returns by the specified deadline will make the employer liable to penalty, the amount depending on the length of delinquency, Jordan emphasized.

If an employer files no return on or before January 31, he will be subject to pay a full one per cent of total payrolls to the Federal Government in addition to the State levy of nine-tenths of one per cent.

In order that employers may easily comply with the provisions of the act a system has been worked out by which those employing eight or more workers will receive proper credit for the contributions to the State fund.

The state agency will forward a receipt to the employer and a duplicate to the Bureau of Internal Revenue in Washington. Employers of less than eight workers are not concerned with this procedure as they are not subject to the Federal Act. Every employer subject to contribution must keep sufficient records to show whether taxes are correctly computed and paid.

Mr. Bashore, Jordan said, has assured employers that all reports submitted to the Department will be treated in absolute confidence. Penalties, carrying fines, will be put on any person who reveals any information contained in such reports.

Fire Chief Andrew Pawlson estimated damage at $40,000, and the Rev. E. A. Hook, pastor, said $15,000 of the loss was covered by insurance. The fire chief said he believed the flames started from a defective chimney and that the flames spread rapidly after reaching the auditorium.

Theophilus S. Mercer Post Office Site Is Selected

Griffith Estate, Corner Of Pitt
And Shenango Streets,
Taken By Government

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Jan. 4.—The Griffith estate once the home of the late Samuel Griffith, a prominent barrister not only of the Mercer county courts, but of western Pennsylvania, is the site selected by government officials for the location of the new postoffice. Announcement of the selection of site was made from Washington following a visit of the committee to Mercer where several sites were inspected.

The home is now the residence of Miss Caroline Griffith, daughter of the late attorney. It is one of the few of such sites left in the community and offers as a location a corner lot at the corner of Pitt and Venango streets with sufficient footage on Venango for location of a handsome building.

The family is among the most prominent of the pioneer stock of the county.

Work will start shortly, it is announced, on the other steps in connection with the letting of contracts for the erection of the $75,000 building and the making ready of its occupancy.

Another thing the world needs is a game refuge for celebrities.

PRINCIPALS TO MEET WEDNESDAY

Members of the Lawrence County Principals Association will meet in the office of County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling, for their monthly business session. A number of the activities in the county schools will be discussed.

YOUTHFUL MURDERER DIES AT STATE PRISON

Execution At Rockview Today

Jacob Gable Pays With Life For Slaying Of Aged Woman

RETAINS HIS CALM MANNER TO END

(International News Service) BELLEFONTE, Pa., Jan. 4.—Youthful Jacob Gable found the death he so indifferently welcomed in the electric chair at the Rockview penitentiary early today when the trained hand of executioner Robert Elliott jolted him into eternity for the slaying of his neighbor, aged Mrs. Harriet Goltstein, 79.

Gable, 21, was placed in the oaken death chair at 12:31 this morning. At 12:32 Elliott sent 2,000 volts and 12 amperes of electricity coursing through his body and at 12:35 he was pronounced dead by Dr. W. J. Weikel, the prison physician.

Gable, who killed Mrs. Goltstein because he feared she might tell police he was involved in a store robbery and then fled with a few of her trinkets as she lay dying on her blood-soaked kitchen floor, was calm, smiling and unperturbed as he walked the few short steps to meet his doom. He entered the brilliantly lit chamber of death unassisted.

Calm At Execution
As interested in the proceedings as the little group of impassive spectators, Gable glanced hurriedly around the bare room. To observers, he appeared the calmest man in the group of 15 in the room. His eyes fell for one fleeting moment on the electric chair.

For a moment, he smiled, almost wistfully, at a Johnstown newspaper reporter who had followed his fate for the last year and a half. He nodded slightly in a gesture of recognition.

Then, he lifted his head to the guards who waited at the electric chair. In an instant, he was strapped into the device of death. The headpiece was adjusted and the hollow-eyed Elliott turned the switch. Above the screaming whine of the death-dealing current could be heard the words of Father Francis T. McCreesh, pronouncing the litany for the dying.

During his long stay in the Cambria county jail, Gable remained immune to the ministrations of the clergy. But he admitted Father McCreesh to his death cell shortly after 11 o'clock last night and the priest accompanied him to the chair. As they walked to the death room, Father McCreesh recited the litany for the dying. In a few minutes, this had changed to the litany for the dead.

A FARMER BOY
ONE of the best known medical men in the United States was Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, New York, who was born on a farm in Pa. He noted daily in his medical career that many of his prescriptions prepared from roots, barks, and herbs, such as his "Favorite Prescription," produced astonishing results. He early founded a Clinic and Hospital in Buffalo, N. Y. Advice by letter is free.

For young girls growing into womanhood, for women in middle life going through the "change," or those who suffer from backache, headache, nervousness and discomforts associated with functional disturbances, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is just the vegetable tonic needed. SEVENTH WARD NEWS

SCALE TESTING TRUCK IS HERE

Arrives At State Highway Garage In Seventh Ward—To Start Tests

Representing the Bureau of Weights and Measures for Western Pennsylvania, a large scale testing truck is now located at the state highway garage in the Seventh ward. This truck will begin today to make a round of business places using large vehicle scales to weigh large quantities of merchandise of which coal is the lead. All scales which do not meet with the state requirements for exact weight must be repaired by the owner before they are allowed to be used again.

This truck is a long 16-wheel affair, and is loaded with weights of 200 pounds each. When completely loaded the entire truck has a total weight of 20,000 pounds or 10 tons. While parked in the garage over night, giant jacks are placed under the body to lift the weight from the springs.

The scales are tested by running a test truck on the scales in question, and checking the weight with the registered weight on the scales. Each side and corner of the scale can be tested for accuracy by moving the truck about on the platform.

To vary the weight of the truck a long crane is built in the back of the truck, and to lessen the weight the required number of 200 pound weights are removed from the vehicle by the crane. In this manner, scales of any capacity may be tested by the truck.

The flag bearers were Audrey Eridenbaugh, Isabel Douglas, Jean Thompson and Peggy England, also high in scouting.

Girl Scout troops of the city were seated in the center section of the church. The sermon given by Rev. D. L. Ferguson was especially appropriate to the occasion. At the close he told briefly what it means to win a Golden Eaglet and asked Miss Davis to come forward to receive the pin. She was accompanied by her troop leader, Miss Elizabeth Hope.

Blaze Occurs On Long Avenue Just As Turns Are Changing This Morning

There were plenty of firemen available when an alarm was turned in from Box 55 at 7:50 this morning, calling No. 5 and B truck companies to the home of Mrs. Mike Costal, of rear 8 Long avenue. The department was just changing turns and sixteen men answered the alarm.

Firemen found a small blaze between the walls and in the ceiling of the kitchen, caused by an overheated stove. It was quickly extinguished.

Strollers Gaze Down At Hudson

Tarry Also To Hear Carillon At Rockefeller Church At Sundown

FALLS SEND FRIENDS TO BED ODD RELATES

By O. O. McIntyre
NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—In the manner of Arnold Bennett's journal, M. and I tarried passing the Rockefeller church in the car last sundown to hear the carillon. And looking around saw dozens of halted cars. When the chimes died away all moved off. Hurry-uppers snaggled on sentiment.

Too, the vesperal hour strollers on the Drive who stand at the parapet gazing down into the rippling Hudson. Like the Frenchman, who stands bemused by the Seine. Some of the most enduring paintings, poems, and books have been handed to posterity by river gazers.

We ticked off O. O. McIntyre four friends brought to bed recently in minor falls. Or rather missteps. One out of a taxi, another off a curb and both with fractured hips. Two others, in bath-tub toppled. Ribs broken. Gladstone once dislocated a vertebrae sneezing and Barnum broke his nose slapping at a fly.

In a Dayton, O., editorial room one busy day, a reporter was asked to take a story over the phone. He reached casually for the receiver, his arm halted in midair, there was a cry of pain and he turned the white of paper. He had thrown his shoulder out of socket.

Montaigne has for a "long last" been a favorite philosopher. I learned of him from a night clerk named Gus in a sporty Cincinnati hotel. Gus was bediamonded manicured and glossy, but in dull hours of night read his Montaigne. In a translation by Jacob Seftin, Montaigne shows to even a greater advantage. It kept me up long after time the other night. Montaigne does not cater to the amateur and curious. His best writing, and clear reasoning came when in the grip of a torturous and medical science, incurable malady. Not once does he bow to despair, hate or cynicism. The writing world grieves for a most talented, lovable craftsman, Don Marquis, gravely ill at Forest Hills, L. I.

A fellow who used to work with me on the Cincinnati Post has written, "The Quiet Lodger of Irving Place." The story of the frustrated O. Henry by William Wash Williams. Williams as a reporter on the World was assigned to run O. Henry down after some crack stories had been brought in by him, paid for. The found him living in the obscurity he always sought and formed a friendship that lasted until the final episode, when he sighed, mumbled for light, because "I do not want to go home in the dark."

Long ago I thumbs downed on literary teas. And I notice in one of the book columns John Parrar has stopped teasing them. At his last he invited 50 people and 150 showed up! When Walter Chrysler Jr. gives a tea he has two efficient huskies at the entrance to check arrivals names with the official list. Dog lovers will warm to King Edward's final thought for his frisky Cairn which he took into exile. It's name, by the way, is "Slipper." The late Will Hogg had one from the same mother, named Gillie, bought in Biarritz.

On several different nights after the theatre M. and I have enjoyed a patrol of the hectic West 52d street block, now almost solidly lined with a hodge-podge of cafes. Here the white tie crowd arrives feverishly for a fling. The mood rollicking. The froth of amiable naughtiness. Fellows with other fellow's wives. Now and then a head waiter, as though no longer able to stand the fumet, saunters to the curb edge with what fresh air the monoxide of a hundred taxis has not tainted. Around a m. couples begin to move, weaving from one canten to another until dawn, and it comes under the heading of fun.

Patrons of the Capitol theatre will long continue to miss the handsome silver-haired J. K. Emmet, II, the manager, usually about the lobby. He was a pleasant smile along a smileless street. The son of a famous actor, he was a handsome leading man of his time. When the curtain dropped on his career, he sought another in the atmosphere he loved and made good.

I have received a copy of "Meet Martha Deane" by Mary Margaret McBride, with this autobiographical bow: "For O. O. M. whose help and encouragement, as well as example, have inspired me all my writing years. Miss McBride is a shy young lady from tiny Paris, Mo., who came to the big city to become the most popular informal talker the radio has ever known, under the pseudonym of Martha Deane. A true life story that might have come out of the success books."

On Court House Hill

To her title of court interpreter, Mrs. Mary Conti now adds the title of tipstaff. Judge James A. Chambers has made the appointment and Mrs. Conti is serving. Court work is nothing new to Mrs. Conti. For the past 35 years she has been in hundreds of cases in that time. She was an official of the Lawrence county court before a lot of the present attorneys were born, and only a few of the attorneys now at the bar were admitted when she first began.

January 5 has been set as the hearing date for an appeal from the city assessment taken by Jennie Gennaula Daino, agent for Jennie Gebbia. The property in question is in the fourth ward and was assessed at $23,600, of this $8,000 being the building assessment. This was subsequently reduced to $6,500, but the assessment has been appealed to the courts.

J. R. Hodge, a funeral director, has entered suit against Alvin R. Kelso, naming him as defendant, and Attorney Harvey E. Martin as counsel. The suit is for $150 alleged to be due on a funeral bill contracted in March, 1935. The bill originally was for $300 and was to be paid equally by F. H. Loudon, husband of Elmer Kelso Loudon, and Alvin R. Kelso, a son. F. H. Loudon paid his share, but Mr. Kelso has never made any payments, according to the statement of claim.

Benjamin J. Thomas, administrator in the estate of Gwendolyn Thomas, who died June 18, 1936, has entered suit against the Metropolitan Life Insurance company for $310 alleged to be due on a policy issued against the life of the deceased. Mr. Thomas alleges it never has been paid.

Letters testamentary have been issued to Henry J. Hetrick of New Castle as the executor of the estate of Henry J. Bludorn of New Castle, who died on December 17, 1936.

Letters testamentary have been issued to Joseph Szarol of Slippery Rock township as the executor in the estate of William Szarol, late of Slippery Rock township, who died on December 19, 1936.

Letters of administration have been issued to Benjamin J. Thomas of Shenango township as executor in the estate of Gwendolyn Thomas, who died on June 18, 1936.

It will not be possible to get a dog license until January 15, according to County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland. The books necessary to the issuance are delayed by the department. The tags are in the books are not. The same thing holds true of the fishing licenses. Any fisherman wanting a license before January 15 must write to the department in Harrisburg.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard and Register and Recorder William R. Hanna began the final year of their term on Saturday. Both were elected for four-year terms, but due to the state law the sheriff is prohibited from running for a second term immediately.

Find Evidence Of How Criminal Cases Were Fixed

Suicide Of Chief Police Clerk In Philadelphia Results In Discoveries

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 4.—Evidence pointing to the "fixing" of hundreds of criminal cases back over the past 40 years has been uncovered by investigators probing a shortage of $10,000 in the office of the chief of police clerk here.

Dusty guns, blackjacks, burglar tools, knives and dope are among the articles, once designated for use in trials that never took place, to be turned over to the probe in old records of the office, left vacant by the suicide of Chief Police Clerk William N. Patrick.

Each bit of evidence should at one time have been called for by the district attorney's office. In the ordinary course of events it would have been taken into court in an effort to obtain a conviction and then destroyed.

In the cases uncovered by the investigators, however, the articles were never taken from the prisoner, and in many instances there is not even the surviving record of an arrest. Where defendants were held for court no evidence of a trial or further action can be discovered now.

Because most of the cases are so old it would be virtually impossible to search out the details the controllers office does not plan to take action on them now. The investigators said the findings do not reflect on the men and officials in the clerk's office. They merely filed the articles away until they should be claimed or called for by the court.

AVELLA
Do you know that Avella, a post office in Washington county, was named in a very peculiar manner?

A few of the citizens assembled to choose a name. They decided that one should open a book and that the first proper name noticed in the book should be the town's name. The book was opened and "Avella" was the name—and thus it became officially a post office.

Schmeling Will Not Return To Meet Joe Louis

If Schmeling Defeats Braddock He Will Retire Undeclared, Is Report

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—It must be that those last five vanillas the other night but me pretty hard because, while everybody else is displaying a mastery grasp upon what's going to take place in sports during 1937, all I can think of today is something that won't. Briefly, if Schmeling wins the heavyweight championship in June, he won't be back, as arranged, to fight Louis in September.

As a matter of fact, it's entirely probable that he won't be back to fight Louis any time.

Plans To Retire.

Unless, in a manner of speaking, I'm being very reliably misinformed, Schmeling intends to do a Tunney after the June meeting, make one last fight against some reliable chump back home and retire undefeated. Tunney picked a lumox named Heene, with short arms and the outstanding skill of a window washer.

Schmeling, they tell me, is determined to face the situation squarely and have it out with Ben Ford. If Ford is currently the heavyweight champion of Great Britain, meaning that, if he's like all the others, he won't come up willingly for the third round. They'll have to go in there and scrape him up.

As for the Louis match, Schmeling can say, and doubtless will, that he beat Louis by a knockout last year, so why does he have to do it again?

Favors Braddock.

I realize that he'll be sacrificing the champion's out of a big purse with Louis, to say nothing of the $25,000 bond he has agreed to let the local commission take out of his Braddock money as evidence of his intention to return. Moreover, I feel able to state with confidence that money of any kind means very little more to Schmeling than his jugular vein.

But he probably hopes to haggle that $25,000 out of us, since it doesn't happen to be ours anyhow, and as for the rest, he'll take it out in prestige as the symbol of German superiority—first, as the only man in history to win the heavyweight championship twice and, second, as a party who is so downright good that he has to retire. It's a superb program, with only one thing against it.

I don't think he'll even beat Braddock in June.

GOES BACK TO SCHOOL

Frank Viggiano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Viggiano, of South Jefferson street, has returned to Philadelphia, where he will resume the study of medicine at the Temple Medical School. Viggiano is a well known basketball and football star here in New Castle and a graduate of Geneva College.

Section Three Starts Tuesday

New Castle High Will Play At New Brighton In Lid Lifter

New Castle high school basketball team, Section III champions last year, also W. P. I. A. titleholders and runner-up to Newport high for the state championship will start their Section III quest for 1937 Tuesday evening at the New Brighton high court.

The New Castle boys in the pre-season campaign have won three and lost two games. The victories were over East, Sharon and Allegheny. The losses were to the Pitt Freshies and the Har-Back high team.

It may be that New Castle will be forced to start Section III minus the services of their star guard, George "Pop" Adams, who suffered a bruised ankle in the Pitt Freshies battle. His place is being taken by Paul Small.

New Brighton, under a new coach this year, will probably have another crackerjack team. The new coach is Bobby Timmons, former Pitt grid star. He has replaced George Roark who is now at Westminster.

Section III is made up of Beaver Falls, Ellwood City, Butler, New Castle, New Brighton, Ambridge and Aliquippa.

The other sectional battles for Tuesday night are as follows:
Aliquippa at Ellwood City.
Beaver Falls at Ambridge.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Tony Manero, national open fold champion, rallied yesterday at Miami, Fla., to tie Ray Mangrum, of Pittsburgh, for first prize in the $2500 Miami open golf tournament. They will meet in the 18-hole play-off today. Trailing Mangrum by three strokes at the end of the third round, Manero burned up the final 18 with a 68, two beneath par, to deadlock Mangrum's 72-hole total of 277. Both made par 70's for the first 18 Sunday and the Pittsburgh professional shot the second in 71.

University of Iowa athletic board will meet early this week to find a successor to Ossie Solem who has accepted a coaching position at Syracuse. Howard Jones, Gus Dorais, Frank Thomas and Jimmy Pheasant have been mentioned in connection with the position, according to Iowa City, Ia., reports.

Two champions will show their stuff in the ring this week. Lou Ambers, lightweight champion, will meet Enrico Venturi, lightweight champion of England, in a 10-round bout Friday night at Madison Square Garden, New York. John Henry Lewis, light-heavyweight champion, will meet Al Ettore, of Philadelphia, in a 10-round bout to-night at Philadelphia. Both are non-title events.

Fred Perry and Ellsworth Vines, now professional tennis players, will meet for the first time in the professional ranks Wednesday at New York. Considerable rivalry exists from the time both were amateurs.

Keystones Will Play Merchants

Keystone A. C. basketball team will go to West Middlesex tonight to meet the fast Merchants team, one of the strongest in this section of the country. The Merchants were the only team to defeat the Keys last year.

The Vendittos will be out to avenge this defeat. All players are requested by Coach Andy "Coots" Venditto to report at the club not later than 6:30 o'clock. According to Business Manager Rocco P. Viggiano, the Merchants will be opening their season tonight.

Vines Favored Over Perry In Tennis Match

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

New York, Jan. 4.—Ellsworth Vines the professional tennis champion of the world, and Fred Perry, until recently ruler of equally comprehensive amateur territory, went into the last stages of training here today for their match at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night, with a record-breaking crowd for pro tennis assured.

While they trained on separate courts against an assortment of sparring partners, with the result that interest was more or less epidemic and the gate approximating $31,000 for Vines' meeting with big Bill Tilden three years ago already has been passed.

Vines Favored
Authority for the optimistic financial statement is Francis T. Hunter, the old David Copper, who has a share in the promotion of this meeting and others to follow. He predicts a $40,000 turnout, notwithstanding the fact that Perry is not expected to do much better than hold the score close.

The critics say the tall boy from California will simply pulverize the Englishman with blistering speed, as he did in international competition when both were amateurs. Vines won four out of six through 1933, the last one they met, except for a practice match which Vines took in straight sets during the nationals last September.

Perry was the most optimistic, in his own behalf, of any one guessing on the match. Upon his arrival from California last night he said he was thoroughly rested after having gone straight from too much competition and was in perfect condition for his best game.

Aliquippa High Here In Section Opener Tuesday

Blue And White Wolverines Set To Open Tough Section 3 Campaign Tomorrow Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 4.—Tuesday night the W.P.I.A.L. basketball league swings into serious action throughout the district. In the Lincoln gym at 8 o'clock tomorrow night a promising Ellwood City high quintet coached by Jerry Newton, will open the Section 3 campaign with Aliquippa high as the opponent.

Local fans have their eyes on this game for it will determine the worth of the Ellwood high team. Aliquippa high, coached by Nate Lippe, with its characteristic big and tough team, will be a real test for the Ellwood high passers. In their previous games the locals have won two and lost three. Their victories were over the Westminster Freshmen and the Slippery Rock college Reserves. They lost to the Carnegie Tech Plebes, the Geneva Reserves, and Campbell Memorial high. Since the immortal high defeat Coach Newton has been holding two practices daily throughout Christmas vacation. The varsity squad is primed for this game and is in top condition. A preliminary game between the Reserve teams of both schools is scheduled for seven o'clock.

Is ReactionaryPressure Heaviest In Motors
And Steels, Strike News
Depresses Traders

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer
NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The stock market continued reactionary today as the serious labor situation, with General Motors threatened by a complete shutdown, depressed Wall Street sentiment.

Pressure was heaviest in motors and steels, the industries most affected by the widespread motor and accessory strikes, although most other sections of the list also were lower.

Losses at the start ran to three points, but a modest recovery later reduced these somewhat. A few groups, notably utilities and sugars, resisted the downward trend.

Chrysler dropped 2½ points and General Motors 1½ on their initial sales, slipped a little further and then moved slightly above opening levels.

Bethlehem and U. S. Steel each lost more than a point before meeting support, while the seven percent preferred of the former slumped more than two points.

Oils were heavy, Standard of Indiana, Texas Corp., and Phillips Petroleum slipping about a point and Consolidated Oil dipping a large fraction to 16.

Utilities were buoyed by a runup of nearly a point in the low-price Columbia Gas & Electric. Others in the group held at or slightly above Saturday's final quotations, with the exception of Public Service of N. J., which lost a point at one time.

Anacoda gained a point in a mixed copper group. Case slumped three points in farm implements. Rails, rubbers, aviation and communications were generally behind minus signs.

Bonds lost ground on a wide front. Grains were moderately improved, but cotton eased slightly.

STRIKE THREAT HANGS
OVER AUTO INDUSTRY

tempt to clear the plants if contempt of court warrants are issued. G. M. attorneys sometime today will decide what legal steps would be taken.

About 200 delegates of the U. W. A. from many of General Motors' 69 plants, meeting in Flint, Sunday, drafted 8-point demands to be submitted to General Motors officials and at the same time empowered the board of strategy to act as it sees fit in event G. M. officials refuse to negotiate on the national basis it demands.

John Brophy, director of John Lewis' committee on industrial organization, told the delegations the CIO was strongly behind the auto union, while similarly expressed support came from Glen McCabe of the glass workers union whose striking members have seriously curtailed plate glass production for autos.

80,000 Paychecks Cut Off.
At least 80,000 paychecks amounting to an estimated $40,000 hourly have been cut off as a result of strikes and parts shortages on 13 G. M. fronts in five states.

The Delco-Remy company in Anderson, Ind., shut down today, throwing 11,797 out of work, while a total of 135,000 or 235,000 G. M. auto workers will be affected by the end of the week even if no more strikes are called, said William S. Knudsen, General Motors executive vice president.

Unless settlement of the strikes at the Libbey-Owens-Ford and Pittsburgh Plate Glass company is effected shortly, industry spokesmen said today other car producers would be affected. Both companies make about 85 percent of the plate glass for the industry, and already some car producers, including General Motors, have less than three weeks supply on hand.

Demands Of Union.
The 8-point demands of the union are:

- (1) A national strike-settlement conference with General Motors.
- (2) Abolition of piece work and adoption of hourly rates.
- (3) Thirty hours work a week.
- (4) Minimum rates commensurate with the general standard of living.
- (5) Reinstatement of all employees allegedly discharged unjustly.
- (6) Seniority based on length of service.
- (7) Recognition of the auto workers union.
- (8) Regulation of the speed of production.

Knudsen has stoutly maintained workers' alleged grievances must be taken up with the managers of the local plants concerned and refused requested conferences with union leaders to deal with G. M. heads directly.

Approximately 40,000 General Motors workers in 13 plants, in Flint, Atlanta, Kansas City, Norwood, O., and Anderson, Ind., are out of work due to strikes, while about 40,000 auto parts workers were affected by G. M.'s stop order on supplies.

KIDNAPING CASE
IN SECOND WEEK;
BOY NOT RELEASED

person over at Tacoma and deliver this message—everything is well." The man, according to Grubb, kept his hands in his pockets in such a way as to convince the watchman he carried a gun. As he finished speaking he jumped back into the car and it sped away so quickly that Grubb said he felt certain some one else was driving, although he couldn't see who was behind the wheel. The tail light of the car was out and Grubb was unable to catch a glimpse of the license plate.

The watchman described his rough-talking visitor as dark, about 40 years of age, weight about 150, height 5 feet 9 inches, with sharp eyes and a "long, flat nose with wide nostrils."

That picture tallies closely with the one of the kidnaper as he was seen, fleeing with the Mattson boy a week ago last night—the verbal picture of the boy's older brother and sister and a friend from whom he was torn in the Hilltop Mattson home on the shores of Puget Sound on the outskirts of Tacoma.

Calls Sheriff.
The watchman, instead of calling Dr. Mattson, telephoned Sheriff Gerald Byrne at Shelton; the sheriff notified authorities at Olympia, the state capital, 18 miles away, and they in turn flashed the news to the state highway patrol and the 45 G-men gathered at Tacoma.

The entire forces of the law turned out quickly and blocked off the peninsula, which lies between the Pacific ocean and Puget Sound. There was one possibility of escape, however—the 18-mile road from Shelton to Olympia which the suspect might have driven a few minutes before the blockade was established. To care for this possibility, a second ring of motor officers was established beyond Olympia while police of the city searched within the city limits.

In the meantime, two more "hot" leads in the case blew up with investigation. The sheriff's office at Seattle received word two "mysterious" men had rented a house on the Bothell road at Forest Lake, six miles from Seattle, just previous to the kidnaping and that a child had been heard crying in the house the past few days.

Under the direction of Under-sheriff Louis J. Forbes, deputies rushed to the Forest Lake and raided the house, only to find two reputable friends of Forbes and no children occupying the premises.

Another Clue Fades.
Another report an abandoned car had been found near Isabella, 20 miles from Shelton, sent state highway patrolmen scurrying there in the hope the machine was the one driven by the black overcoated visitor at the Shelton lumber mill. They discovered, however, the car belongs to a citizen who had only parked it for a time and that he was not the man wanted.

From Tacoma, a score of government cars, which have been kept running in garages, roared away with G-men and raced to Mason county where the kidnap specialists took active charge of the manhunt.

Harold Nathan, assistant director of the G-men and in charge of the Mattson case, answered all questions with his usual "no comment", but it was evident for certain reasons the federal sleuths do not at this time believe the overcoated individual is the kidnaper, although why they take this attitude could not be ascertained.

The missing boy's father said simply: "I can only hope this man's words were true—that my boy is all right," a sentiment echoed tearfully by Charles' mother.

No European War Says George Bernard Shaw

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
(World Copyright, 1937, by International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 4.—America was advised by George Bernard Shaw today to mind its own business and keep out of European troubles as the best contribution it can make to the world in 1937.

In an exclusive interview with International News Service, the famous Irish wit and playwright declared that the best thing the United States can do for civilization during the new year is to "keep its own stable clean and tidy and better its own conditions."

Stay At Home

"If America will only do its best to help itself along," Shaw said, "it will help the world."

"The best thing for Americans to do in 1937 is to better themselves and their own living conditions."

"If any of your people want to mix in the Spanish war or other European adventures, get rid of them. That is the best thing you can do for the world."

"You have found an interesting president," Shaw continued. "He will keep you busy during the next year. Just let Europe alone and don't get yourself mixed up in it. Do that and better your own way of living. Then you will have accomplished something for the world in the new year."

No Danger Of War

Asked whether he thought there is real danger of a European war

during the new year, Shaw replied: "Not the slightest."

Pressed for the reasons for this belief, he added: "There will not be any European war because all nations are too much afraid of fighting one another. They will have little war whenever they can find somebody else's territory on which to fight, but they won't fight in their own countries."

"Big nations are too afraid of the risk of war against one another. The outcome would be too appalling. They know it."

Spaniards Got Tired

"The war in Spain is not now between the Spanish people. Spaniards themselves are now fed up with war. They have got cold feet, and it's the Germans, Italians, Russians and other foreigners who now are really fighting in Spain."

"It is the same sort of war which Russia and Austria fought against one another. They fought in Bulgaria, and the Russians were Bulgarians and the Austrians Serbians."

"That sort of thing is likely to continue, but it is doubtful whether it will spread into a general conflagration. It won't as long as governments can prevent it."

Milk Truck Driver Escapes Injury In Collision Sunday

Truck Runs Into Side Of Train At Covert's Station Crossing

While enroute to Covert Station from his home on the Covert-Mt. Jackson road, W. J. Kildoo ran the milk truck which was driving into the side of a fast freight train at 5 a. m. Sunday. Kildoo escaped injury but the truck which he was driving was carried along the track for about 30 feet and the right side torn off.

The engineer of the train stopped the engine about a mile down the track, he being unaware of the accident until it was seen by the conductor in the caboose and he set the emergency brakes.

According to Kildoo he was descending the hill on the side of Covert Station nearest Mount Jackson, and as it was still very dark he failed to see the train on the Pennsylvania crossing and drove into the side of it. Kildoo cut his wheels in the direction the train was traveling and thus averted turning his truck over.

BEAR TRAP FOUND IMBEDDED IN TREE

GROVE CITY, Jan. 4.—An iron bear trap, plainly hand-made, even to the chain, was found imbedded in the heart of a white oak tree cut on the farm of C. C. Gildersleeve, north of here. It was in the third 10-foot section cut from the trunk, and was nearly 30 feet from the base of the tree, which had a base two feet in diameter.

Forest experts estimate that the trap had been there for about 150 years, basing their opinion on age of the tree. In that case it was set by a roaming trapper before there were any permanent settlers in this district.

DEAF GIRL LEARNS THROUGH GIRL FRIEND

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 4.—Although totally deaf, 15-year-old Mary Kincaid faces the future with a smile on her lips, apparently having little concern over the physical defect that condemned her to a world of silence.

For through the medium of her girl friend and constant companion, Jane Shaffer, 14, she enjoys a happy, normal existence.

Mary can read Jane's lips even though she has been unable to understand the lip movements of most of her teachers and other classmates in the South high school where she attends and is rated as an excellent student, often attaining the honor roll.

Jane repeats to Mary the sounds in the school world and gives meaning to the soundless world that has enveloped Mary since an attack of meningitis robbed her of her hearing five years ago.

Maybe Morgan sold a railroad empire at a bargain, but we once read about a man who bought a sick elephant for ten dollars.
